

once upon a time there was a little frog sitting in a pond every once in a while an insect would fly by and the little frog would stick out its tongue and eat it

one day another little frog came along and asked, "what are you doing?"
the little frog answered, "just sitting"
the other little frog asked, "why?"
"just sitting" answered the frog
the other little frog asked, "can I sit with you?"
the other little frog said, "yes"
so the other little frog sat down

the next day another little frog came along and asked, "what are you doing?"
the little frogs answered, "just sitting"
the little frog asked, "why?"
both little frogs answered "just sitting"
both little frogs answered, "yes"
so the other little frog sat down with the other frogs

the little frogs answered, "just sitting"
the little frog asked, "why?"
all the little frogs answered, "just sitting"
the other little frog asked again, "why?"
all the little frogs answered again, "just sitting"
the other little frog asked again, "no, really, why?"
all the little frogs answered again, "just sitting"
the other little frog became frustrated and yelled at the other little frogs, "well that is ridiculous, you have to be sitting for a reason, you can't just sit there, what is wrong with you frogs? and the little frog stomped off.
